Key Finding — False Negatives: 160 of 624 analysed cases (25.6%) were classified by Claude as genuine restaurant menus containing dish names and prices, yet were rejected by the MDS pipeline. The highest false-negative rates are in File Not Supported (82%) and MDS Technical Failure (83%) — meaning the content is valid but the file format or resolution triggered a system rejection. In Not a Menu Document, 89 of 507 cases (17.6%) are likely genuine menus that the language model mis-classified.

Detailed case-by-case analysis follows — sorted by Error Bucket, then by AI category.
